Notes:

(*) The course provides both standard and honour programs.

The courses English – International Business, English – Finance & Banking, English – Business Administration are provided via partnership between ULIS and The University of Economics and Business – VNU.

Overview of courses

Every year, ULIS – VNU provides 19 courses of 2 majors: Language Teacher Education and Foreign Languages. All courses at ULIS – VNU are designed towards the final learning outcomes and aimed at developing students’ comprehensive competence on three areas: knowledge, occupational skills – soft skills and other qualities required for students’ successful integration into a modern society.

Upon course completion, in terms of language competence, students are expected to achieve level 5/6 (Six-level Vietnam’s Framework of Reference For Language) for the first foreign language (C1 – Common European Framework of Reference) and level 3 for the second foreign language (B1 - Common European Framework of Reference). After finishing language skills subjects, students can accumulate the related knowledge of linguistics, semantics, literature, cross cultural communication, country studies (regarding people, culture, economics, society, politics and education), presentation skills, critical thinking skills, teamwork skills, interdisciplinary research skills, debate skills and other related knowledge and skills.

Besides ULIS's traditional training programs, i.e. Language teacher education and Translation and Interpreting, undergraduates of Foreign Language majors can choose other specialisations such as Economics, Management, Applied Linguistics, Tourism, International studies...

A. Foreign Language Teacher Education

Graduates of foreign language teacher education courses can work as highschool teachers or lecturers at tertiary education institutions who are adaptable and have deep linguistic, cultural knowledge of their chosen foreign language. They are also equipped with solid theoretical background and foreign language teaching methodology which help them organize learning activities flexibly and effectively to meet different learners' needs at various contexts. Upon completing the program, these graduates can obtain essential competencies and skills such as communication skills, teamwork skills, problem-solving skills and develop adaptability to local, national and international contexts.

After graduation, holders of bachelor's degrees in Foreign Language Teacher Education are capable of teaching foreign languages at secondary schools, high schools, colleges and universities. They can also further their education and improve important personal qualities and occupational skills to excel in their teaching jobs or management positions related to foreign language education teaching and research.

One significant final learning outcome for graduates of Foreign Language Teacher Education at ULIS – VNU is level 5 of a foreign language. This meets the MOET's requirement to become foreign language teachers at training institutions of the public education system.

(1) English Language Teacher Education

As a national leading institution of training foreign language teachers, ULIS annually provides hundreds of foreign language teaching graduates with adequate competences set by Vietnam's framework of English teacher competence. These graduates play a key role in Project 2020 that focuses on innovating the learning and teaching of foreign languages in the public education system.

English Language Teacher Education course provides two programs: mainstream and fast-track. Once they have admitted to ULIS, students can register for the enrollment tests for the fast-track program. In the program, some advanced subjects will be taught in more depth, and learners are expected to experience heavier workload compared to mainstream counterparts. This can enable fast-track students to work not only as key teachers at foreign language specializing institutions but also assume important positions in the national education system. They will be significant seeds of change that contribute positively to the development of the public education system.

(2) Teacher Education Course of Russian, Japanese, French and Chinese Language

The graduates of these courses can work effectively as teachers, researchers and pursue other stimulating careers, contributing considerably to the maintenance and development of foreign languages in national training institutions.

The university also provides student exchange programs on an annual basis with university counterparts from France, the US, China, Japan, the Republic of Korea, Russia, Germany and Thailand. Students who perform well academically may be given an opportunity to go to these countries to study and earn a degree from ULIS's partner universities. For example, majors of Japanese Language Teacher Education can continue their study in Japan after 2.5 years in ULIS and get a degree awarded by a Japanese university. Besides, they can have many opportunities to do their practicum in Japan and further their education to master and PhD degrees in Japan after graduation.

B. Foreign Language Courses

The training programs have been developed into 6 specializations: Translation and Interpreting, Applied Linguistics, Management, Economics, Tourism and International Studies.
