Meeting with the delegation from English Language Institute (ELI), USA

English language teachers with high professional expertise, rich life experiences, and good morals from the English Language Institute will come to teach at ULIS.

On November 7th, 2018, ULIS welcomed the delegation of ELI to discuss the faculty exchange program for the next school year.

Delivering his remarks at the meeting, President Do Tuan Minh stated that the University always welcomed native teachers, especially those from ELI.

The President highly appreciated the professionalism and competence of the teachers that ELI had sent to the University so far. The President wished to cooperate with ELI in activities such as assisting young teachers or participating in the "Lang Son" and "Thanh Hoa" programs that the University had been implementing.

About ELI, Collin Quingley said, "ELI has a global presence and is always looking for the best English language teachers in countries where English is the native language. The English Language Institute has collaborated with many major universities in Vietnam and is expected to send more native teachers to Vietnam in the future, ULIS is definitely one of the institutions ELI gives priority to."

He affirmed, "This is a very valuable opportunity that the University has given to ELI. Native English language teachers from ELI who come to ULIS will have high professional expertise, rich life experiences, and good morals."
